Portland – Part 1 – Beer bars and stores

Beervana. A craft beer geek could spend a month trying to visit all of the excellent breweries from Widmer to Upright to Lucky Labrador and Hair of the Dog. In fact, where other cities have beer weeks, Portland has a month! Since there is so much to visit, these guides are broken up into different parts, beer bars, new breweries, old breweries and restaurants with great beer lists.

Our first destination is a combination of bier café and bottle shop. You can sample then grab a bomber to go. 15 taps of mostly local goodness from Fort George, Terminal Gravity or Heater-Allen to name just three. They have special tastings and meet the brewer events all the time, it seems. Suggested Beer to try – look for a Cascadian dark ale from Deschutes or HUB

Pasty tavern and Green Bay Packer bar but a great vibe with an awesome local selection and really cool tables designed with bottle caps from various beers. Plus it is close to the light rail so you can ride home safely.

Suggested Beer to try – how about something from a super micro brewery, Ambacht.

The Horse Brass

4534 Belmont Street

Portland, OR 97215

(503) 232-2202

Mon. – Fri. 11:00 am to 2:30 am / Sat. & Sun. Noon to 2:30 am

History. Keep that in mind when entering this hallowed and very British style pub. Without Don Younger, maybe craft beer doesn't get off the ground. I mean at all. He along with Fred Eckhardt and Fritz Maytag and Michael Jackson are key to the early survival. So soak in the atmosphere.

Suggested Beer to try – gotta try old school beer here, Younger's Special Bitter from Rogue

Eastburn

1800 East Burnside

Portland, OR 97214

(503) 236-2878

Tap Room is open from 4:00 pm to 2:00 am daily.

Tap – Patio – Grill. Great combination. 16 beers on tap that rotate monthly (if not sooner). And you can follow the changes in their beer list via Taplister, one of the trendsetting apps for craft beer lovers. Oh and just like the other three stops, there are beer events here too.

Suggested Beer to try – better be something brewed in Portland. Maybe some Upright Brews.
